The Snow Show is an exhibition of contemporary environmental art and architecture that replaces familiar, permanent materials like wood or concrete with the unusual, ephemeral element of water in its frozen forms. The participants are some of today's most exciting artists and architects: Daniel Buren & Patrick Bouchain, Carsten Höller & Williams & Tsien, Paola Pivi & Cliostraat, Jauma Plensa & Norman Foster, Yoko Ono & Arata Isozaki, Kiki Smith & Lebbeus Woods. AWC interviews the curator, Mr. Lance Fung.
